

JOHN AND LYN SCOTT

Doug Miles (right), past National Director of the Droughtmaster Society, presenting John and Lyn Scott with the Honorary Life Membership on behalf of the Board and the Members of the Droughtmaster Society in 2017.

JOHN AND LYN SCOTT, formerly of Rocky View Stud, Nanango, were presented with Honorary Life Membership in 2017. As reported in the Droughtmaster Digest 2017:

"John and Lyn have been very active members of the Droughtmaster breed and while their stud recorded many highlights including a long-standing record price at the Roma Sale, it was their service to the breed and its members that saw them awarded the Life Membership.

John and Lyn worked tirelessly for the breed as a whole but particularly in the South Burnett. They were integral to the success of the 1995 Nanango Droughtmaster Beef Week that was repeated in 2005.

With Garnet Kahler, they instigated the Nanango Bull Sale and two female sales that now continue under the Bunya Bull Sale and Cream of the Crop banners.

John helped establish the Biggenden Store Sale that continued for many years. He worked on the Roma and Gympie Sale committees. The Coolabunia Saleyards may well have closed for good if it wasn't for the work John undertook communicating with the council to keep the yards open.

He hosted many assessment schools at Nanango that were a vital source of information to many new and existing stud members. John also served two terms as a Director for the Society, first as the Southern Zone Director and then returning after a break for a term as National Director.